Tone in Wall Street Firm Despite Strike of Trainmen

T.RADING QUIET,

Rapid Transit Situation a Minor Factor.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Speculative temper at the stock exchange continued more or less unsettled this morning. There was a better feeling with regard to the ability of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company to restore its regular conveniences of travel within a few days, but this was regarded as enly a minor factor, It was recognized that large-numbers of traders were not inclined to make important commitments pending the written opinion of the Supreme Court in the Northern Securities case, which was orally decided on Monday.

In the absence, therefore, of aggress siveness on tile part of leading interests, such as distinguished the situation a short time ago, the bear element was tempted to test the market here and there.

Opening prices were irregular. Fractional rallies followed, but these in turn vere succeeded by some sagging tendencies. New York Central was inclined to rally on any encouragement. Union. Election of officers was the feature of yesterday. The following were chosen:

President, William F. Gude; vice president, Charles Henlock; secretary, Peter

Bisset; treasurer, William H. Earnest. The club presented Mr. Bisset with a handsome silver bread plate, suitably in-scribed, in recognition of his valuable services to the organization. Matters relating to the convention of the Society of American Florists, to be held here in August, were discussed. The club went on record as favoring and encouraging the work of amateur gardening and cul-tivation of flowers in the District.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was the exhibition of new varieties of carna-

There is now a more pronounced inclination than formerly to confine bullish activities either to the low priced stocks which have not shared extensively in the general advance or to such of the higher priced stocks as may still be selling below a parity with money. The high priced stocks now selling at or above a parity with the average value of money are almost without exception those upon which the strength of recent speculation has converged. Traders believe that some new and powerful impulse will be needed to start the market up again.

A circular will be issued in a few days by the Northern Securities Company outlining again the terms of the distri-bution of the stocks of the Great North-ern and Northern Pacific.

There are many who believe that there is not likely to be any serious decline in the general market $0 long as the steel stocks hold, and sentiment on the steel stocks hold, and sentiment on the steel trade situation continues to be very optimistic. This is demonstrated by the increase of general buying in the United States Steel issues on all price recessions. There was some rather strong general buying, if general buying is ever strong, in Steel common yesterday. It is considered that the steel stocks have shown very creditable resistance to the reactionary tendency of the market, in them during the past few weeks, especially in the common stock, has been of a more general and miscellaneous character, perhaps, than that in any other quarter of the market.

"SHORTY" IS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

OF THE STOCK MARKET Helping to Rob Bank.

Spring Was Purchased in Baltimore.

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 8.-James Bailey, alias "Con Shorty," is in jail in default of bail in the amount of $5,000, to await the action of the Montgomery county grand jury on March 20, on a charge of attempting to rob the National Bank at Sandy Spring, this county. Bailey was given a preliminary blowing in this State, Virginia, and the Carolinas, but specific charges have been made against him in connection with the blowing of the safe of the First National Bank of Sandy Spring, Montgomery county, and the robbing of the post-office in Ellicott City.

Four men escaped down the road to-ward Washington. In their hurry one nan lost his black derby hat. The tools found were from the shop of Blackmith Marlow, at Ashton, and were iden tifled by the owner. The man Shorty was identified by several citizens as having been seen in the neighborhood of Sandy Spring a short while before the of Sandy Spring a short while before the bank robbery.

The derby hat which was dropped by one of the men was given to Leonard Weer, who took it to Baltimore, to the store of the merchant who sold it. The salesman was George T. Cross, a hatter, who testified to having sold the hat to the prisoner a short while before the bank robbery at Sandy Spring. At the time of buying the hat Shorty said he wanted the hat sufficiently large for him. When the hat was put on his head it was sufficiently large.

Mr. Cross Positive.

Mr. Cross testified positively that the risoner was the man who bought the at in exhibit. The hat is number 71/2, nd was purchased on April 27 last. Ind was purchased on April 27 last.

Samuel T. Bushman, a postoffice inspector of Baltimore, testified to having received a letter for one of the yeggmen arrested in December last, which was postmarked in Cincinnati. This letter was opened by him. It was from "Con," who was in the workhouse at the latterity, and he asked the yeggman for assistance. Upon this evidence Detective Bradley went to Cincinnati and brought Shorty to Baltimore, and thence to this place today.

Got Only Small Amounts.

The robbers did not get large amounts from either place. The prisoner has already been indicted on the charge of blowing a safe in Manassas, Va., and it is thought he may have been connected with the La Plata robbery last fall, when $5,000 was secured.

In the hearing before Justice Reading, the citizens of Sandy Spring testified as to the town being awakened on the night of May 3 last by an explosion. The moor was shining and they saw several men around the bank building. The citizens hurriedly armed themselves and made a rush for the building, but the robbers ran. About forty shots were fired by both sides.
